

Life Reimagined: Redrawing the Map for our Health, Relationships, and Future

Barbara Bradley Hagerty

Wednesday, November 9, 2016
7:00-9:00pm

Los Altos High School Eagle Theater
201 Almond Avenue, Los Altos

As your children grow up and become increasingly independent, it may be time to renegotiate your purpose, refocus your relationships, and transform the way you think about the world and yourself. Drawing from emerging information in neurology, psychology, biology, genetics, and sociology, Ms. Hagerty plots a new course forward in our understanding of our health, our relationships, even our futures. She will provoke us into thinking about renewal and giving new meaning to our lives through fresh possibilities, intentions, and joys.

ABOUT OUR SPEAKER:

Barbara Bradley Hagerty is a journalist and an author. For more than a decade she covered economics, law, and political scandals at The Christian Science Monitor. Following a year on a Knight Fellowship at Yale Law School, she joined National Public Radio in 1995 where she was a correspondent for 18 years, covering the Justice Department beat and then the religion beat. Over the years she has won numerous awards for her reporting. Now she is a New York Times best-selling author with her most recent book Life Reimagined: The Science, Art, and Opportunity of Midlife.
