Even in this age of helicopter parenting, the mothers and fathers of tomorrow's women have little idea what their daughters are up to sexually or how they feel about sex. Peggy Orenstein exposes the new sexual landscape girls face as they journey through high school and college - revealing hidden truths, hard lessons, and important possibilities of girls' sex lives in the modern world. Addressing the impact of culture, social media, sexting, porn, hook-up culture, sexual consent, and even the silence surrounding satisfaction and pleasure, Orenstein understands what needs to be said to both girls and boys and why parents must say it. Join us for a provocative discussion on girls (and boys) and sex.
